

Adopt-A-Day Program

Blue Spruce Habitat for Humanity depends on local resources to construct its homes. Your company, faith congregation or organization can make a significant and tangible difference by combining your volunteer efforts with a contribution to help pay for the construction materials that are needed for one day on the worksite.

The Habitat Adopt-A-Day program provides volunteers with a fun and rewarding day at the construction site, and allows them to engage in a natural team-building experience. The combination of volunteer and monetary donations provides Habitat with crucial resources to continue to build homes in partnership with families and the community.
